Matthew Curry, CFP®, ChFC®, CLU® is the founder of the Curry Financial Group, Inc. Matt started his business with Prudential in 2014 and specializes in holistic financial planning for individuals, families, and businesses. Matt and his team help families create a financial game plan that guides them to financial independence.

Matt named his company the Curry Financial Group, Inc. after his parents, who are outstanding role models to him. Matt chose to become a Financial Planner because he loves to educate families to help them make informed financial decisions. He gets this quality from his mom, Marilyn Curry, who is a Professor at Nassau Community College. Matt gets his love of planning and numbers from his dad, James Curry, who was a Chief Procurement Officer for the Metropolitan Transit Authority before he retired. Matt also credits his success to his supportive, loving, and hard-working wife Codie.

Matt is inspired to help his local community and serves on the volunteer Board of Directors for the Townwide Fund of Huntington. Matt is an Executive Board Member, Co-Chair of the Nominating Committee, and President of the Townwide Fund Legacy Society. Matt also serves on the Financial, Planned Giving, and Charity Run Committees for the fund.

Prior to becoming a Financial Planner, Matt graduated from SUNY Geneseo with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration with a minor in History. While at SUNY Geneseo, Matt was a four-year member of the men's varsity basketball team. In his free time, Matt enjoys spending time with his wife Codie, their dog Kobe, and his family. Matt's other hobbies include golfing with friends, going to church, working out, and studying the latest financial planning strategies.
