

Chris & Elena Galluzzo

Chris and Elena Galluzzo met at Hofstra University in 1983 and have been residents of Dix Hills for over 36 years. They take pride in living, working, and raising their four amazing children in this wonderful community. Having established themselves as real estate agents for 20 years, in 2018, they decided to team up with their son Christopher, previously a real estate agent in Brooklyn, to form The Galluzzo Team.

Their daughter Diana and son Alex soon joined the team and became part of the Compass Real Estate Firm in Huntington Village. Their motto, "Helping homes find their people," reflects their commitment to their business. Helping families transition with dedication and care making the difficulty of moving as smooth as possible for everyone involved has established The Galluzzo Team as a local household name.

Chris Galluzzo, a beacon of leadership and compassion, worked in Manhattan as a Real Estate Manager/Developer for 32 years. He serves as the esteemed President of Rotary International of Kings Park and Commack and is dedicated to helping The Sons of Italy. His influence extends further as a vital member of the Melville Chamber of Commerce and the Hauppauge Industrial Association, where his leadership fosters business growth and community development. Chris's contributions to the community, including his past roles as a board member of the Commack Soccer League and chairman of the 9/11 New York Soccer Foundation, underscore his commitment to fostering unity and support amongst his neighbors and friends.

Elena Galluzzo, deeply rooted in Dix Hills and a proud alumna of Commack schools, blends her local connection with a passionate commitment to community uplift. As a founding member of the 100 Women of Huntington and an active volunteer with The Family Service League, Elena champions charitable causes and encourages women to join her efforts. She was an active member of the Commack PTA, working on the Yearbook and Fashion Show Fundraisers for over 7 years. Elena also proudly owned Take a Peek Antiques in Northport and Penny Daze Candy Shop in East Northport.

As pillars of the Huntington community, Chris and Elena embody a philanthropic spirit and a steadfast dedication to service and goodwill. They help charities and families personally, becoming the go-to people for friends, family, and strangers in need. They support various foundations, including the Daniela Conte Foundation, General Needs, the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society, the Gift of Life, and the Blessings from Bella Fund, reflecting their commitment to service and community solidarity. Their advocacy for the Big Brother and Big Sister Foundation underscores their belief in the power of mentorship.

Chris and Elena Galluzzo's journey is a vivid show of love, service, and dedication. They proudly support the Townwide Fund Foundation, inspiring us all to contribute to a world marked by kindness, solidarity, and unwavering support for one another.
